

3 mistakes to avoid before you purchase a water treatment system!

1. Purchasing a cheap system.

Water filtration extends from the simple filter jug that you place in your refrigerator through to a well-constructed whole home water treatment system. As often happens, the cheapest is not necessarily the best, simply because it will not do the job, or what you save in the initial outlay, you make up for in ongoing maintenance costs. Look at the quality of the construction and consider the manufacturing source of the water treatment system you are considering to buy. There are systems available on the market in various price ranges but consider that this is one of the three main items needed for life; water, air and food. Do you really want to take a risk with a system that will not be reliable when you need it to be? Eagle Water Treatment products have over 30 years of development and engineering and have been installed in thousands of homes across Canada. Backed by constant research and development you can be assured that you are purchasing a product that is well received and respected across the industry. In addition to these many accolades, Eagle products are GOLD SEAL certified by the Water Quality Association as well as being CSA and NSF approved. Products do not receive these certifications if they have not been rigorously tested to insure their quality meets high standards.

2. Not considering the installation and service of a water treatment system.

Getting the best water treatment system for your home or business is of course essential but to get the most out of your investment, it all comes down to proper installation. With Eagle Industries Corp you don't have to search high and low for the best installers because we've already done that for you. We've assembled a team of qualified and fully trained professional installers that are ready to provide you with a hassle-free experience. In addition to years of experience and unrivalled expertise, our installers bring complete dedication and customer satisfaction to every job. When you order a water treatment system from Eagle Industries Corp our dedicated installation team will do everything to make the whole process easy and enjoyable. In fact, we are so confident in our installers that we include an unconditional guarantee of their installation work. If you are not happy with any part of our installation process just let one of our team members know and we will find a solution to make it right for you. We here at Eagle Industries Corp are very proud of our installers and we only include members on our team that are trustworthy and professional. With our many years of experience you can trust us to install your Eagle Water Treatment System and to provide you with the best solutions and make the entire process a stress-free experience.

3. Look closely at the manufactures warranty.

Eagle provides one of the best if not the best warranty in the business. All of our water treatment equipment is backed by a lifetime warranty. As a customer, you of course would care about the product warranty on anything you purchase. As might be expected, it's rare for any two manufacturers to have identical warranties. That is why it is crucial that before purchasing you at least familiarize yourself with the warranty your selected manufacturer offers. With Eagle Industries Corp you are assured to get one of the best warranties in the business. Eagle provides to the original purchaser a lifetime no charge in home service and replacement warranty on the water treatment unit as required for the lifetime of the unit. As a bonus the self-contained computer head and associated valve will be covered for 7 years from the date of installation as well. There are some companies who have improved upon their warranties but they do come with strict conditions. In the event you may ever have to make a claim, document everything – and check it three times. With Eagle you can be assured that we stand behind our products and that is why you get a lifetime no hassle warranty from the date of installation. If you choose to compare the Eagle no hassle lifetime warranty please be aware that with other warranties it is always caveat emptor, buyer beware. Understand your warranty and the implications before you sign anything. Feel confident with an Eagle lifetime warranty plan with all of your purchases from Eagle Industries Corp, that is why we exclusively carry the trusted Eagle Water Treatment brand. Give us a call today and we will be more than happy to visit your home or place of business and provide you with a free water quality evaluation as well as discuss with you our lifetime warranty.